"Turtle" Reels Off 11,237 Miles; Flight Ends at Columbus

Dash From Perth Betters B-29 Flight; Bucked Strong Winds, Ice

Columbus, O., Oct. 1—(AP) — The Truculent Turtle, navy patrol bomber, landed at Port Columbus at 11:28 a. m. (CST) today, completing a record-breaking non-stop flight of 11,237 miles from Perth, Australia. The unofficial elapsed time was 55 hours and 18 minutes.

The twin-engined Lockheed Neptune P2V, carrying a crew of four men and a baby kangaroo, thereby exceeded by 3,321 miles the non-stop mark of 7,916 miles set last November by the army's B29 "Dream Boat.'

On hand to greet the long-distance flyers were members of the Columbus naval air station plus delegations of navy officials who flew here from Washington and Chicago, headed by Adm. Richard W. Ewen, commanding officer of the naval air reserve training station at Glenview, Ill.

Get Physical Exams

The fliers, headed by Cmdr. Thomas D. Davies of Cleveland, were to be given a flight physical examination for fatigue immediately.

Then they were to relate their experiences to newsmen.

Other members of the record-breaking expedition who left Perth at 4:10 a. m. CST., Sunday, were Cmdrs. Eugene P. Rankin of Sapulpa, Okla., and Walter S. Reid of Washington, D. C., and Lt. Comdr. Roy H. Tabeling of Jacksonville, Fla.

The plane has checked in with radio stations north of Sacramento, Calif., just after midnight. The crew first planned to set down at Des Moines, Ia., then decided to push on eastward to Ohio's capital.

The four men emerged from the bomber looking tired and haggard.

Cmdr. Davies was the first out. He was greeted by Rear Admiral Ewen.

Gas Guages Were Off

Davies said "we had a fine trip, but had all the weather we could find, including 1,000 pounds of ice."

Davies added he thought the Turtle could have gone on to Washington, but would have had no reserve gasoline."

"Our gasoline guages were inaccurate," he said, "and we decided to play it safe and land in one piece."

The commander said the Turtle bucked head winds all the way to the west coast of the United States, running into cold weather and ice just off America, and he estimated the ship at one time was laden with 1,000 pounds of ice.

Terrific tail winds pushed the

First Lena Prize Pick Is Rosemary Walker; Enter 5

Five readers of the Dixon Evening Telegraph who submitted entries in the Lena the Hyena contest conducted last week by this newspaper in cooperation with Cartoonist Al Capp who draws the Lil' Abner comic strip, were selected in the nation wide contest. Three of these amateur artists will receive cash prizes for their efforts and the judges considered the entries of two others worthy of consideration in the national contest.

Rosemary Walker, 903 East Chamberlin street, Dixon, was awarded the first prize by the judges after viewing hundreds of drawings which depicted the artist's conception of Lena the Hyena woman who is to play an important role in the immediate future life of Lil' Abner. Susie Schrieber, 510 East Bradshaw street was awarded second honors and third prize went to Bob Kelly, 7; Jones avenue, Amboy. Honorable mention was given to the entries of Joan Whitlow and Charles Holmes, both of Dixon and the five drawings have been forwarded to New York where they will enter national competition.

The contest aroused unanticipated interest among the readers of the Telegraph throughout the circulation area in Lee, Ogle and Bureau counties.

Bund, Klan Link Bared by Justice Department Men

Washington, Oct. 1—The Justice department said today it has uncovered evidence establishing links between the Ku Klux Klan and the German - American bund from 1937 to 1941.

An official who has read the evidence said it "definitely proves that the two organizations collaborated to promote racial and religious dissension prior to the war."

He told a reporter that government agents investigating Klan activities ferreted out the evidence of Bund-Klan ties.

The department has promised swift prosecution of the Klan if any violations of federal laws are found.

Maritime Walkouts Paralyzes Nation's Ships Once Again

Marine Engineers Lead in Latest Dispute on Wage Issue

(By The Associated Press)

CIO seamen and longshoremen struck in east and west coast ports today after collapse of contract negotiations with ship operators —posing a new threat of a complete paralysis of the nation's maritime fleet.

The strike of 15,000 members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial association who operate virtually all engine rooms in the American merchant marine, went into effect at midnight last night when their contract expired and after Washington talks bogged down.

West Coast Joins Today

Members "struck" immediately in New York while west coast members were to join their colleagues later today.

The Marine Engineers, together with the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots, had demanded preferential hiring of union members.

Unlike the Marine Engineers, the AFL organization—which includes the nation's deck officers —had not taken a strike vote but its members quit work at midnight—the time of expiration of their contract—in accordance with a "no contract, no work" policy.

Longshoremen involved in the dispute are members of Harry Bridges' CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union who had demanded a 33-cents-an-hour pay raise from west coast opeartors in negotiations at San Francisco. The hike would bring their pay to $1.70 an hour.

Tie Up 35 to 40 Ships

Three thousand stevedores struck in Los Angeles harbor shortly after midnight, while 2,000 more halted work at Seattle, tied up 35 to 40 ships there. Longshoremen in Seattle, however, continued to work troop and troop supply ships and bona fide relief ships.

Must Register Now or Lose Vote This Fall Is Warning to Voters

Lee county voters must be certain their names are on the permanent registration lists in order to vote in the Nov. 5 election, County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock reminded them this morning.

"If you are registered, but have changed your address or name since last voting, you must change the permanent registration record accordingly", he warned.

Tuesday, Oct. 8, is the last day voters may register or make necessary changes at the county clerk's office or at a regular precinct voting place. The offices will be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. on that date.

Schrock warned again that voters cannot register and vote on Nov 5 as has previously been possible. They must be properly registered before the Oct 8 deadline.

Washington, Oct. 1—(AP)—The "Flying Mail Car", celebrating inauguration of five cent air mail, will stop Saturday at Moline, Ill., on its route from Seattle to New York.

U. S. May Seize All Market-Bound Beef To Defeat Shortage

Government Also Studies Plan to Purchase From Argentine

Washington, Oct. 1 — (AP)—Rep. Spence (D-Ky) said he "gathered the impression" at a conference with President Truman today that the government may "take some remedial action" to ease the meat shortage.

Spence, chairman of the honse banking committee told reporters after the white house conference that he was "not at liberty to discuss" what the action may be.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said earlier there is a "very real danger" that the government may have to seize all market-bound livestock.

Washington, Oct. 1—(AP)—The worsening meat shortage brought an official threat today of government seizure of all market-bound livestock.

That unprecedented step was described by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson as "a very real danger that day by day becomes more of a possibility."

Anderson's assertion to a group of New Mexico cattlemen coincided with his formal announcement through the Agriculture department here that meat must remain on the government's list of scarce farm products.

At the same time Anderson erased from the list—and from price control—all canned fruits, juices, nectars and corn, along with fresh and frozen salmon, oat cereals and rum.

Decontrol Is Not Answer

What lingering hopes the meat industry might still have had that the way might be cleared for lifting OPA ceilings in a bid to farmers to speed their stock to market apparently were dashed by the announcement here.

And Anderson made the point more emphatic in his Albuquerque address yesterday by declaring that any new decontrol period would simply lead to "feast and then famine."

Pleading for "cooperation in trying to bring meat back to the American people  at legitimate prices," the secretary asked the executive board of the New Mexico Cattle Growers association "what do you have to suggest?"

It was not immediately clear

Boston Leaders Seek Owners of Big Meat Cache

Boston, Oct. 1—(AP)—State officials today sought the identity of owners of 4,000,000 pounds of dressed meat discovered in a large freezing plant by special investigators ordered by Democratic Governor Maurice J. Tobin to determine if any of the scarce commodity was being "deliberately withheld from customers."

Massachusetts state police and public health inspectors reported to Tobin last night that the 6,000,000 pounds of meat found in a waterfront establishment, 2,000,000 pounds was army property and 4,0000,000 pounds was owned privately.

Tobin immediately wired Secretary of War Robert Patterson asking the army to release 25 per cent of its allotment—including beef, pork and lamb—to meet critical needs of hospitals, some of which fed horse meat to patients last week.

The Massachusetts division on the Necessaries of Life, ordered to identify the private owners, has full authority to summon witnesses and records in any investigation of shortages of essential commodities. Tobin said.

The investigation followed a Sunday emergency meeting by the governor with state department heads, after which Tobin said laws pertaining to conspiracy and restraint of trade may be brought into play if "combines" and agreements" to withhold sale of meat were disclosed.

Nine district public health inspectors and as many state police meanwhile continued their probe of 200 slaughter houses and 41 licensed cold storage plants in the Bay state.

A congressional committee yesterday heard conflicting suggestions for methods to end the famine.

Vets of Both Wars Step Side by Side In Legion Parade

Stage Huge Spectacle in San Francisco After Stelle Hits VA

San Francisco, Oct. 1—(AP)—Greying veterans of the first world war march side by side today with their youthful cohorts from World War II in the American Legion's first big parade since the world returned to a troubled peace.

By the tens of thousands, Legionnaires from the two great conflicts will form the ranks for their spectacular procession up Market street, the first elements starting from the Ferry building at 11 a. m. (CST) in a march expected to last until nightfall.

Legion members put aside formal convention affairs for the big show today, but it was apparent from their serious attitude during opening sessions yesterday that most of the 150,000 ex-servicemen and women concentrated here were deeply concerned over the grave problems confronting the nation and themselves.

Heavy overtures of these as yet unsolved questions were drummed into the ears of Legionnaires for hours yesterday as national figures discoursed on the problems of the peace.

National Commander John Stelle lashed out at the Veterans Administration charging Gen. Omar Bradley with "breaking faith" with returning veterans in sponsoring legislation that put a $200 ceiling on veterans on-the-job training. The housing program likewise came in for bitter criticism.

Blazine, Illini Coach, Resting After Collapse

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Tony Blazine, assistant football coach at Illinois, today was recuperating from an illness which caused his collapse before the Notre Dame game here Saturday.

Blazine yesterday was reported resting easily at his home. Physicians declined to discuss the nature of his illness. The former Illinois Wesleyan tackle was not expected to get back on his coaching job this week.

State Bares Plans On Rental Units For Vet Housing Drive

Would Provide Trailer-Type Prefabricated Unit at Low Cost

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1—(AP) — A plan for production of rental houses for veterans by private non-profit corporations aided by local housing authorities was outlined today by Brice Martin, managing director of the Illinois state housing board.

Martin told delegates to the Illinois Municipal league's convention that the plan contemplates FHA insured long term, low interest rate loans from private sources.

"I would explain the plan in more detail," Martin said, "but attorneys are still exploring its ramifications and until we have worked out all the procedures and have assurance of financing at low interest rates, we cannot formally announce its adoption."

Only 16,000 permanent dwelling units have been started in Illinois this year, he added in a prepared address. The board has estimated minimum emergency housing requirements at 230,000 homes by the end of 1947.

Martin said the housing board believes shelter for veterans should be provided quickly rather than let them live under adverse conditions until permanent houses are built. He continued:

"Our advocacy of such a policy is based upon knowledge of a prefabricated trailer-type unit that we believe could be speedily produced in great quantity, would provide decent quarters for young families for three to five years and possibly could amorized in that time at rents that the majority of veterans can afford."

PROBE HOUSING DELAY

Washington, Oct. 1— (AP) — Senate war investigating committee agents are digging into reasons for the delays and hindrances to new home construction.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) told reporters today that he and Chairman Kilgore (D-W Va) had reached an understanding on the housing inquiry and that investigators already are doing "spade work" preliminary to formal hearings later on.

"What we have got to do is find out what are the bottlenecks and what can be done to break them," Ferguson added. "The housing situation is the most serious problem of the country."

The Michigan senator has been urging the committee to drop everything else, if necessary, and turn its attention to that problem. Kilgore agreed that the situation

Mountain Lion Loose in Centralia, Police Fear

Centralia, Ill., Oct. 1—(AP)—A boy's story that a beast of heroic proportions is prowling near here today was bolstered with a city police report from a man who said the headlights of his automobile transfixed momentarily a mountain lion bearing a freshly killed rabbit.

Police said the man claimed he saw the animal, about eight feet long, at Centralia's old reservoir last night—about 48 hours after the youth's purported encounter along Crooked Creek.

Chief of Police, Orville Bounds, disclaiming a report that he had any plans for an organized lion safari, asserted:

"But, if it comes into the city we'll slay it and divide the meat."

Seek Okay of Pact in Lincoln Damage Suit

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Probate court approval of a $22,500 settlement in the $57,000 damage suit brought against James F. Lincoln, Jr., by the parents of a Joliet, Ill., girl he was convicted of assaulting, was to be sought here today.

Attorneys for Lincoln, 29, son of a Cleveland industrialist, and Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, parents of Carol, 9, said the agreement provided for $20,500 to be paid the child and the $2,000 to her father.

Lincoln is serving a one to 14 year prison term. He pleaded guilty to beating and shooting the child when she resisted his advances.

Decree Death on Gallows for Goering, Von Ribbentrop and Ten More German Nazi Leaders

Russia Protests Acquittal of Von Papen, Schacht and Fritsche---Once Haughty German War Lords Hear Their Doom

Nuernberg, Oct. 1. — (AP) — Hermann Goering and 10 co-conspirators of the Hitler gang will die on the gallows for their war crimes and crimes against humanity.

The International Military Tribunal sentenced them today, at the same time sending Rudolf Hess to prison for life and, over Russian objections, acquitting Franz Von Papen, Hjalmar Schacht and Hans Fritsche.

The death sentences, the allies' retribution for the death and misery that Hitler and his leaders visited upon humanity, are expected to be involved in 15 days, or on Oct. 16. The defendants have four days to appeal to the allied control council, their court of last resort, but no one looks for their sentences to be changed.

Sentenced to death with Goering were Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Field Marshall Wilhelm Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Alfred Rosenberg, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frisck, Julius Streicher, Fritz Sauckel, Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, Arthur Seyss-Inquart and Martin Bormann. The court tried Bormann in absentia, and there was no indication he could be found before the execution date. Many believe him already dead.

Russian judges on the four-power tribunal, besides objecting to the three acquittals, dissented that death also should be decreed for Rudolf Hess and objected against yesterday's acquittal of the general staff and high command.

Face Other Charges

While Von Papen, Schacht and Fritsche left the Nuernberg courtroom as free men, there were plentiful signs that they still would face charges. Dr. Wilhelm Hoegner, minister-president of Bavaria, said Von Papen faced trial before a denazification board if he remained in the American zone of occupation. Maj. Gen. C. L. Adcock, representing the American military government, said all three might be tried under the control council's denazification statute.

Schacht, arrogant as ever, offered to sell his autograph for candy bars and left the court declaring Germany today lacked both laws and free opinion.

Take Sentences Silently

All the defendants received their sentences silently — some with sneers and other ironical gestures, some as if stunned. Goering was immobile. Ribbentrop shrunken from the days of his triumphs as Adolf Hitler's foreign minister, had to be helped from the courtroom.

Russia still may carry to the control council her objections to the acquittals and the prison sentence for Hess. This council is made up of the ranking representatives in Germany of the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France, and has the final say over all the defendants.

Even as the Hitler gangsters were shuffling back to their Nuernberg courthouse cells, Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, representing the control council, was in the courthouse making execution arrangements.

Besides Hess, the four-power tribunal gave life sentences to Walther Funk and Grand Adm. Erich Raeder. Sentences of 10 to 20 years were ordered for Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz, Baldur Von Schirach, Albert Speer and Constantin Von Neurath.

Justice Robert H. Jackson, who was the chief American prosecutor, expressed regret at the three acquittals and said the action threw doubt upon possible legal action against other Nazi industrialists who helped build the German war machine. One of these, Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen Und Haldach, was indicted here, but was not brought to trial because of senile softening of the brain. Robert Ley, the 24th of the defendants originally indicted here hanged himself before the trial got underway.

The hangings will take place in the jail of the Nuernberg Palace of Justice.

Legal officials of the American military government said that if any of the three Nazi leaders acquitted were returned to the U. S. zone of occupation they

Damage Suit to Be Heard Against CNW Tomorrow

The $10,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Mollie K. Henert against the Chicago and Northwestern railroad is scheduled for jury trial tomorrow morning in Circuit court.

Mrs. Henert is administratrix of the estate of her late husband, William G., who died Nov. 20, 1945, as the result of injuries received when the car in which he was riding with Oscar Nass was struck by a train at the Northwestern crossing on Richardson avenue, Ashton.

The suit charges the railroad with failing to take proper precautions in warning traffic at the crossing of the approach of the streamliner, City of Los Angeles, and charges that a freight standing on a side track near the crossing obstructed the view of Henert and Nass and made such noise that it drowned out sounds of the approaching train.

Frees Hospital Patients

Four State hospital patients were discharged from the institution this morning by Judge George C. Dixon after hearings on writs of habeas corpus in Circuit court. The four are: Catherine Burke, Dorothy Groth, Agnes Orell and Fred Schroeder.

Condemned Men in Various Reactions To Their Sentences

Goering Retains Fierce Reserve—Ribbentrop Stunned

Nuernberg, Oct. 1—(AP)—Rudolph Hess, to the end the posturing crackpot of the war crimes trial, brushed aside earphones that would have told him whether he was to live or die, and stared blankly ahead of him as a stern judge sentenced him to life imprisonment.

One by one, 21 once haughty Nazi leaders were marched before the bar of the International Military Tribunal to hear their fate.

Goering retained his fierce reserve. Gone were his flamboyant trappings—his medals, his glittering uniform, his field marshal's baton—as he strode into the courtroom between two stalwart military policemen. His shabby gray suit hung limply about him.

Presiding Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, cold and impersonal, gazed sternly at the No. 2 Nazi chieftain and setenced him to die on the gallows. Under the pitiless glare of the kleig lights, not a muscle of Goering's face moved.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, the dandy of the Nazi cabinet who as foreign minister once strutted proudly across Europe's diplomatic stage, was stunned when he heard his death sentence. Gray and sickly, he had to be helped from the room by military police.

Aging Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Hitler's military yes-man, heard his doom silently. When the court pronounced the death sentence, he returned silently and went back through the small door in the dock.

Tall, hulking Ernest Kaltenbrunner, once chief of the dread gestapo, still looked easily the fiercest of the defendants. He bowed ironically when the court sentenced him to hang.

The man who scourged occupied Russia, Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg, straightened his coat,

U. S., Slavs Differ on Bank Member

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Yugoslavia and the United States lined up on opposite sides of a new issue today—this time over Italy's right to membership in the $7,670,000,000 world bank.

A high official attending the joint session of the bank and international monetary fund told reporters privately that Yugoslav representatives probably will lead the opposition to the former enemy's application.

John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury and chairman of the world bank's board of governors, told a news conference, however, that the United States' position with regard to Italy "has not changed yet."

Snyder said the question of Italy's application for membership along with those of war-neutral Turkey, Syria and Lebanon, probably would be passed on late today or tomorrow. The United States has indorsed all four applications.

Greece's position on any dispute rising over Italy lacked immediate clarification.

Previously, the Greeks had opposed Italy's entrance in the absence of a peace treaty, but some officials said they anticipated a possible softening of this attitude in view of Greece's current friction with Yugoslavia and her close harmony with Anglo-American aims.

So far, four nations have indicated that they will seek a total of $1,490,000,000 from the bank. These include a $500,000,000 request from France, $350,000,000 from Czechoslovakia, $600,000,000 from Poland and $40,000,000 from Chile.

Oelwein Man Takes Top Butter Honors at Iowa Contests

Waterloo, Iowa—An Iowa man, Albert Harms of Oelwein, walked off with first place honors in the annual butter scoring contest with a 96 score, as the Dairy Cattle Congress and Allied Shows got off to a start unsurpassed in the history of the event, it was announced here today by E. S. Estel, general manager. The show is underway for one full week, beginning Monday.

Mr. Harms, who has consistently been a high place winner in past contests, placed 2nd in the 1940 and 1941 shows. Runner-up place this year went to Maynard Fjelstul, Waukon, Iowa, with a 95¾ score and third to J. P. Goltz, of Monona, Iowa, with a 95½ score.

There were 91 entries from seven states, including Oregon, Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa.

Individuals receiving superior ratings, or 95 score butter, were Robert Jorgensen, Lake Mills, Iowa; Lloyd Scott, Oelwein, Iowa; Wayne Mullins, Williamsburg, Iowa; Walter R. Waskow, Waucoma, Iowa; F. L. Frieden, West Union, Iowa, and Perry I. McHenry, Verozva, Wisconsin.

Cheese Contest

The cheese making contest was won by Clair Simmons, of Hibbings, Minnesota, with a 95 score and Basil Tone, Tillamook, Oregon, placed second with a 94 score. The Brookside Dairy, Dubuque, Iowa, ranked third with a 93 score.

Over the weekend, the general exhibitors, as well as showmen and their animals from throughout the United States converged on the grounds and were in place for the opening of the exposition Monday morning.

A full evening program was scheduled for Monday night in the hippodrome, beginning at 6:30 and Tuesday morning, beginning at 9:00 o'clock, the judging of cattle and horses began, getting the second day of the event underway. A daily continuous program is scheduled and Iowa's own "Sioux City Sue" will be on the grounds throughout the day, making two hippodrome appearances.

Flock Care Takes Too Many Steps

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 1—Combining all possible operations at the poultry house into one trip saves time and labor—and steps, points out Sam F. Ridlen, extension poultry, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Ridlen, recently appointed to the position, succeeds H H. Alp, resigned, who served as poultryman for nearly 19 years.

The new specialist adds that checks on farm flocks throughout the country show great variation in feeding and management practices. Many farmers and their wives make from one to ten trips to the poultry house each day. The amount of walking varies from only a few feet to several hundred, and the type of work on each trip also varies widely.

Location of the feed supply, arrangement of feeding and watering equipment and other management practices may be changed in order to reduce the number of trips and the amount of walking. Time and travel can be saved by keeping the feed supply in the poultry house. Grain and mash can be kept in barrels or bins in the house. Feeders arranged in line and pointing to the entrance will save time and steps, although the feed consumed by the flocks may be greater when the ends of the feeders are toward the windows.

Roosting racks not only save time, but are an aid in management and ventilation. Deep litter requires less frequent cleaning, and that also saves time.

Watering is probably the most time-consuming of all poultry management jobs. Piping water into the poultry house will reduce the time by about one-half.

Digest of the News for

Poultry Raisers

A Weekly Letter by Frank Priebe

It's like Thanksgiving or Christmas every week now, as far as the poultry market is concerned.

People are really eating chickens!

Ordinarily at this time of year poultry is marketed faster than it can be consumed and the surplus is put into storage. But not now. People are not only eating poultry as fast as it's being sold. They're also taking poultry out of storage. Almost 20 million pounds went out the third week in September. Nothing like that has ever happened before.

If people keep eating storage stocks at that rate, it won't take long for the reserve in the freezers to disappear completely. And instead of a surplus we'll have a shortage.

When there is nothing but fish and chicken available in the butcher shops, there's bound to be a tremendous consumption of poultry.

And regardless of what is done about livestock ceilings, it doesn't look as if there would be much meat in the markets for several months.

Start Fall Chicks

So if I had an empty brooder house and could get chicks, I'd put some in right now. They'll be ready for market in 12 or 13 weeks. I'm convinced you'll get a fine price for them. And they'll be out of the way in time for you to start another lot early next spring.

In its report on the poultry outlook for next year, the USDA says:

"Demand for chicken meat the first half of 1947 will remain strong....Prices received by farmers for chickens will probably reach an all-time high."

Normally, except for a few cull hens, most farmers in the Middle West have no poultry to sell before June. But if poultry prices are headed for an all-time high next spring, I'd make it my business to have chickens ready for market then.

It isn't as if you had to brood chicks with hens and could start them only in the spring. With the brooding facilities you have now, you can start chicks any time you want to.

Commercial broiler growers in the East—who are quick to take advantage of a good market—are filling their poultry houses. Why should the poultry raiser in the Middle West sit with empty brooder houses while producers in other sections cash in on the highest prices in the history of the industry?

Will the habit of starting chicks in the spring blind us to this opportunity for profit?

If you've never raised fall chicks before do it this year!

FRANK PRIEBE.

D. H. I. A. Report

The association average for the month was 711 lbs. milk and 25.7 lbs. fat with 398 cows on test from 20 herds. 72 of these were dry; 68 each produced over 40 lbs. fat.

The herd of 22 PBH owned by Ward & Smith led the association with an average of 1149 lbs. milk and 41.8 lbs. fat on two times a day milking. Two were dry.

The four next high were:

A herd of 15 GH owned by Edgar Truckenbrod had an average of 1120 lbs. milk and 39.4 lbs. fat on two times a day milking. None were dry.

A herd of 14 PBH owned by Paul Swanlund had an average of 1144 lbs. milk and 37.7 lbs. fat on two times a day milking. None were dry.

A herd of 15 PB and GH owned by Fred Montavon had an average of 724 lbs. milk and 36.3 lbs. fat on two times a day milking. None were dry.

A herd of 21 PB and GH owned by Al Meyer had an average of 1059 lbs. milk and 34.5 lbs. fat on two times a day milking. One was dry.

Newcastle Disease Strikes in Midwest

Newcastle disease now has struck in several Midwest states, according to a recent check made by Successful Farming magazine Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, and Illinois have one or more cases. There is conflicting information as to whether the disease exists in Michigan, Missouri Ohio and Oklahoma. The poultry show at the Iowa state fair, the first in five years, was cancelled this month because of fear of spreading the disease.

In chicks up to a few weeks of age, symptoms resemble bronchitis or laryngotracheitis. Symptoms involving the nervous system also are observed. Handling affected chicks seems to make this nervous condition worse. They may appear as if in a stupor, staggering or with tremors of head and neck. Wings may be used to support the body. Surviving chicks may show evidence of damage for weeks, or even permanently.

Adult birds also show respiratory symptoms, the disease being most active during colder months. A sudden drop in egg production in four days to a week is the most characteristic feature. Hens may stop laying altogether or show an increase in the number of floor eggs, some lacking hard shells. Nervous symptoms are not so common.

Newcastle virus also preys on pigeons geese, ducks, turkeys and other barnyard fowl. Wild birds have died in the vicinity of outbreaks, and may play a part in its spread.

Newcastle can be spread through feed sacks and crates, by shipment of chicks, and by shoes or clothing of people working in infected flocks.

Control plans have not been developed, but an embargo and slaughter of infected flocks seem possible. Vaccines have not shown good response when given to young chicks, the age most commonly affected. Length of immunity among adult birds is short.

Cancellation of poultry shows over the country is recommended. Successful Farming magazine reports, until we see where we stand with the disease.

Doubling Pasture Yield Simple Job

Pastures are the villain in our farmlands—producing only a fraction of the valuable summer feed of which they are capable. To get that extra production is a simple job, Successful Farming magazine has found.

The difficult part, finding a winning combination, has been done by Dr. V. G. Sprague and Dr. R. R. Robinson, who tackled the problem armed with scientific know-how and dirt-farm practicality. Working at the USDA's Regional Pasture Research laboratory, at State College, Pennsylvania, they tore the pasture program apart and put it together in a form that can put your stock knee-deep in vitamins.

Sprague and Robinson picked a gently sloping hillside which had been pronounced "worn out" for farming 40 or 50 years ago, left part of the field for a test patch and went to work. They first applied two tons of lime to each acre.

The first year, some of the ground was disked until all the old sod was torn up and killed. Beginning in August, this took several diskings of two or three times each, for rains would come along and help the dislodged sods re-establish themselves. Another strip was plowed four inches deep. One was torn up with a rigid type cultivator. One was disked, then gone over with the field cultivator.

In each case, the plots were topdressed with 1000 pounds of 20% super-phosphate and 260 pounds of muriate of potash per acre—applied with a grain drill before the last tillage—and allowed to lie over winter before seeding in the spring.

The second year's tilling technique varied a little from the first. The experimenters substituted a heavy orchard disk for the regular field disk, which had proved rather light for the sod-cutting job. And they used it right after a rain, when the sod was not so tough. These tricks cut disking in half.

The rigid field cultivator tended to roll the sod up, so a flexible, spring-toothed model was tried, with much better results. This year, too, they again tried shallow plowing, and added a few new treatments — including the disk plow, the subsurface sweep followed with the disk, and closely clipped plots to duplicate heavy grazing.

Final tillage experiments came the third year, when the cutaway disk, or bush and bog harrow, came into play. This is a heavy-duty disk, with the blades themselves notched much the same as cutaway rolling coulters. The disk is loaded heavily with rocks, and the cutaway feature makes it dig much more aggressively than a regular or orchard disk.

MacArthur to Continue Jap Work; No Candidate

Tokyo, Sept 30—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today he had no presidential ambitions but intended to "see the Japanese occupation through."

The supreme allied commander issued a statement in reply to news reports that Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb) had mentioned the possibility of his becoming a candidate in the 1948 campaign.

Mariam Powers and Leo Boehle Repeat Vows Here Sunday

In a simple but beautiful ceremony Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, Miss Mariam Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Powers of 810 Highland Ave., Dixon, and Leo Boehle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Boehle, of Amboy, were united in marriage at St. Patrick's Catholic church of Dixon, the Rev. Father Walsh officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a gown of brocaded white marquisette over satin with a bouquet of white gardenias and gladioli. Mrs. Walter Hohenadel, of Rochelle, served as matron of honor, wearing pink marquisette over satin with pink carnations.

William Powers, brother of the bride, served as best man, and Mrs. Willard Jones presided at the organ, playing the traditional wedding marches.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Colonial Inn in Grand Detour, with 50 in attendance, and the newlyweds left for a two week's honeymoon trip to New York. For going away, the bride wore a brown suit with brown accessories.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Amboy Township high school, and they will be at home after Nov. 1 at 810 Third St., in Dixon.

Celebrate 57th Wedding Anniversary

On Sept. 28, 1839, Sarah Jane Walls and Henry D. Rebuck were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage in Polo. They were born near Chambersburg, Pa., and came to Illinois the year before their marriage. They were employed for several years by the late Reynold Anderson of Woosung, but later went to farming for themselves. After retiring from farming, Mr. Rebuck was employed for several years by the Borden condensery at Dixon. They have lived their entire married life in the vicinity of Polo and Dixon, and on Sunday, Sept. 29, held open house for their many friends and relatives for their 57th wedding anniversary. Sixty-four guests came from Rockford, Mt. Morris, Dixon, Elgin, Chicago, Wyoming, Milledgeville, Oregon and Woosung.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Yount and Mrs. Cleo Southard of Oregon, and one son, Reynold of Dixon; six grandsons, two granddaughters, six great-granddaughters and three great-grandsons. All were able to attend but one grandson and two great-grandsons. Mrs Rebuck has one sister, Mrs. Cliff Carter of Polo, and Mr. Rebuck has one sister, Mrs. Chris Humphrey of Dixon; two brothers, John of Ashton and Dave of Polo. Three grandsons served in World War II, Elwood Yount and Harold Southard in the army, and Amos Southard in the navy. All have been honorably discharged.

Mrs. Rebuck is 75 years old and Mr. Rebuck is 77. Both enjoy fair health and do all their garden work as well as keeping their large lawn at their home at 508 N. Adams street, Polo. Mrs. Rebuck's beautiful corsage of sweet peas, snagdragons and baby's breath was picked from her own flower garden. They extended many thanks to all who attended and helped make it a wonderful day for them.

Loveland Cub Dens Have Camping Trip in Park Saturday

With permission of the Dixon Park board, Cubmasters Alvah Drew and two assistants, Bruce Whites and Roy Meyer, took 17 Cubs from Loveland pack 324 to Lowell Park Saturday night to camp.

They had supper cooked over a camp fire and games in the evening before retiring in pup tents loaned by the armory. They had an oatmeal, pancake and egg breakfast at an early hour, and played ball and hiked over the entire park.

At noon the 14 families joined the group with well-filled baskets, and enjoyed a hearty dinner. After dinner the boys and their fathers played baseball for two hours, and then Mrs. Drew gave out awards. Boys getting Bobcat pins were Leroy Snyden, Roger Huffman, Jim Whites. Boys getting Wolf badges were Johnny Ruth, Billy Ogan and Douglas Gracey. The latter three boys also received gold stars, and Johnny Ruth was also awarded a denner's stripe.

The boys ended the day with one more hike through the timber to the entrance where they were met by their parents.

Cubbers from Den I were Johnny Ruth, David Howard, Bobby Sibigtroth, Jim Villiger, Douglas Gracey, Tommy Hufford, Billy Ogan. Those from Den II were Roger Huffman, Jim Whites, Jimmy Hackbarth, Kenneth Hackbarth, Jimmy Delph, Charles Delph, Tommy Meyer, Jimmy Slancky, Leroy Snyden, Bobby Pettinger.

Dixon High School Graduate Teaching Agr. in Sterling

Arthur Shick, who has been engaged to teach vocational agriculture at the Sterling Township high school, is a native of Lee county. He graduated from the Dixon high school in 1931 after which he attended the University of Illinois and graduated from the latter institution in 1937.

Before coming to Sterling Mr. Schick had five years professional teaching experience, having supervised teaching of agriculture and activities pertaining to the same at Oregon, Ill., high school. He has had practical farming experience, having been born and raised on a farm, working with his father during the two years that he attended school and for two years after he graduated from high school. During that time he exhibited sheep, swine and cattle at five county fairs and at the state fair each summer.

During his teaching years previous to entering military service he spent much time judging livestock at county fairs and 4-H club shows. In the summer of 1939 he was engaged in officers training under the supervision of the officers.

Mr. Schick had one summer of graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Schick was in military service for four years and four months. Several months were spent overseas. He served with the 79th infantry division in the states and with the army ground forces replacement depot No. 1 later. His overseas service was with the 42nd infantry division. He was in the Battle of the Rhine and the Battle of Central Europe. He was in France, southern Germany and northern Austria during his service.

Pastorate Closes

Rev. and Mrs. William E. Thompson closed their work here as pastor of the local Church of the Brethren last Sunday, having served the church fourteen years and one month. They came to Dixon September 1, 1932 from Polo where they were in pastoral work for seven years. The Dixon Brethren church has prospered in many ways during the pastorate of the Thompsons. Two hundred thirty-seven have been received into church membership. The financial status of the church is in the best condition in the history of the church. Twelve years ago the church was remodeled at an expense of ten thousand dollars and four years ago it was remodeled again at an expense of over three thousand dollars. This has all been liquidated and the church is out of debt with a substantial balance. The church is well organized and all departments working in a splendid way. There is a good spirit of cooperation and a Christian spirit which unites the church for future service. The young people have been a strong factor in making the church what it is. They have worked with the pastor during the years in a commendable way, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will always be grateful to them. The Thompsons will retire from pastoral work at least for one year but will remain in Dixon. They would like to express their appreciation not only to the members of the Brethren church but to the many friends they have made in Dixon for their fine cooperation.

Brooks' Branca Set For Redbirds Today

St. Louis, Oct. 1—(AP)—Throw out 154 games and a 14-8 season edge for St. Louis over Brooklyn and start the real 1946 National league race today as Managers Eddie Dyer and Leo Durocher match wits and strategy in the opener of a three-game tie play-off—the first ever held in major league baseball.

Howie Pollet, the Cardinals' ailing No. 1 hurler, probably holds the key to the situation in the aching muscles of his left side. The slender southpaw has been poison to the Brooks.

Dyer won't know if Pollet, who has been knocked out of the box by Chicago in his last two starts, can take his turn until he lets him warm up in Sportsman's park before the game.

If he's "right" Pollet will pitch and Card supporters who have made their favorites a surprising 13 to 20 choice will breathe more easily. If not, Dyer will fall back on Murry Dickson, a wiry right-hander who has beaten the Dodgers three times and lost once in relief.

There is no secret in the fact that Dyer has pointed his Cardinal club for Durocher's club all season long. He confided before the season that "Brooklyn was the team to beat."

Ralph Branca

PLAYOFF DOPE

(By The Associated Press)

CONTESTANTS: Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals, each having ended regulation season with 96 wins and 58 losses.

FIRST GAME: At Sportsman's park, St. Louis, Tuesday, 1:30 p. m. (CST).

SECOND GAME: At Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Thursday 12:30 p. m, (CST).

THIRD Game (if necessary): at Brooklyn Friday.

RADIO BROADCASTS: Mutual network, starting 1:15 p. m., local time, all outlets except in St. Louis where WIL and WTMV will carry.

FIRST GAME PITCHERS: Branca (3-0) vs. Pollet (20-10) or Dickson (14-6).

UMPIRES: John (Beans) Reardon, Larry Goetz, Ralph (Babe) Pinnelli and Lynton (Dusty) Boggess.

BETTING ODDS: Betting Commissioner James P. Carroll (St. Louis)—Cardinals 13 t o 20, Dodgers 13-10. New York bookmakers — Cardinals 5 to 7 to win playoff, 5 to 8 to take opener.

WEATHER FOR FIRST GAME: Clear and warm.

There is no key figure holding the fate of the Dodgers' master plan. It is based on Durocher's hunches and uncanny ability to call on the right men at the ripe time. Brimming with confidence, as usual, the Dodger manager has picked Ralph Branca, a 20-year-old collegian from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to hurl the vital game. Branca has been extremely effective against the Birds.

Durocher's prize gamble of the year involved Branca in his last start against St. Louis. On Sept. 14 Branca spun a three-hit, 5-0 shutout. It was the kid's first complete game of the year.

The first game is a "big one" for the Redbirds, just as every game has been for the past three weeks. This really is one they have to win for a flip of the coin sends them back to Brooklyn for the second game Thursday and a third game Friday, if necessary.

More than 25,000 reserved seats and general admission tickets were gobbled up within a few hours yesterday. A line formed in front of the bleacher window last night.

Downtown hotels and taverns were jammed. Many fans were subbing the play-off games for the World Series games they had planned to attend.

Unlike the World Series, the players do not share in the receipts of the play-off games, but President Sam Breadon of the Cards announced his players would be paid off for the week on a pro-rata basis of their season's salary.

In the men's Classic league at Lincoln Lanes last night Hill Bros. won two games from the State Hospital Accountants, giving these two fives a tie with Plowman's James Billiards and Pete Miller's for first with 8-4. Walt Klein was high for Hill Bros. with 599 and Howard Hahn led the Accountants with 539.

James Billiards gained their share of first by winning all three of their sets from Harmon Motors. Les Brotherton's 591 topped the James Boys and Ken Emmert's 394 was high for Harmon.

Pete Miller's gained their share of first with a three-game win over Nachusa. Orin Lovin was high for Pete Millers with 560 and Ken Johnson's 517 topped Nachusa.

State Hospital No. 3 won three games from Raynor No. 1 with Stanley's 490 high for the Hospital and Whitebread's 531 topping Raynors No. 1.

A. & P. won three from Cupps Market with Bill Austin's 529 topping A. & P. and Blocher's 450 high for Cupps

Modern Woodmen took two games from Coss Dairy with H. Karper's 568 high for the Woodmen and Wirth leading Coss with 476.

Chicago Motor Club won two games from Raynor No. 2 with Clint Emmert leading the Motor Club with 583 and Hanson's 430 high for Raynor No. 2.

Walt Klein had the high series of the night with 599 and high games were Howard Karper 244, Choppy Rosbrook 223, Walt Klein 209, John Smith 226, Ned Sack 203, Les Brotherton 206, 201, Ken Johnson 206, Orin Lovin 201 and Carlson 212.

* * *

A score sheet for the Plowman's Store and Hospital Mechanics was missing from the Lane's envelope this morning so these scores can not be published, but according to standings Plowman's must have won the match, as they were in the five-way tie for first with 8-4 . . . Lorraine Paulsen was the most consistent in the Ladies loop last night with a difference of three pins in her games of 131-134-130 . . . Dierdorff on the Modern Woodmen at the Lanes had a five pin spread with his 153-154-149 . . . Ray Gardner, lead-off man for Pat Patterson's Chicago Motor Club had his mind set on a "200" game last night. Having 123 in the sixth frame, of the last game, Ray laid in three strikes and then came up with the 5-7-9 split, which to an ordinary kegler would mean finishing somewhere in the 190s, but Ray picked it up and got nine counters on his next one for 209 . . . Unless it was herself, no one was more surprised than we were to see Dode McClanahan leading Erzingers with 460, the high mark of her bowling career . . . Two of Dixon's bowlers, Bill Maloney and Gabby Reynolds are making over the old Airport Grill, and with Bill, an ex-marine, and Gabby, an ex-gob, both tipping the scales around 200, declaring it will be an orderly spot where you can enjoy an evening lunch and relaxation, they probably mean it just the way it sounds . . . A while back we asked Paul Loosli if Alice Loosli who rolls with the Dixon Fruit team was any relation. Paul, with the condescension most boys show to the better looking side of the family, said, "Yes, she's my sister, but she's not much of a bowler," which caused us to look up their scores last night. Paul on the Harmon Motors five at the Lanes, rolled 376; while Alice at the Recreation was turning in 392. Paul's good friend Ken Emmert did a bit better, though, beating her one pin with his 393.

Four Loop Clashes Feature Midwestern Grid Play Saturday

Chicago, Oct. 1—(AP)—Football warfare in the Western conference increases in intensity this week end with eight of the nine teams slated for action in four league games. In a lone nonconference contest, Ohio State travels west to tangle with Southern California.

In league competition defending champion Indiana, after defeats by Cincinnati and Michigan, goes to Minnesota; Illinois and Purdue, defeated last week by Notre Dame and Iowa, respectively, clash at Champaign; Wisconsin, victorious over California, visits Northwestern, and the current big nine leaders Iowa and Michigan, each with a victory and no losses, clash at Ann Arbor.

The Hawkeyes, after pulling a 16 to 0 upset victory over Purdue expect a real test against Michigan. Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson said he planned to have the Hawkeyes concentrate on defensive drills all week. Jim Lawrence, former Iowa Preflight player, was expected to replace Center Dick Woodward, who suffered a shoulder injury last Saturday.

Meanwhile, at Ann Arbor, the Wolverine varsity squad took things easy yesterday after reviewing pictures of last week's 21 to 0 triumph over Indiana. Scout Ernie McCoy reported to Coach Fritz Crisler that Iowa had a big bruising team "this is potentially very dangerous."

Around other Big 9 camps:

INDIANA—Coach Bo McMillin said he wanted to look over movies of the Hoosiers' loss to Mchigan before commenting on his team's defensive errors. He praised the passing of Bob Young, substitute halfback, who completed five of seven tosses for 84 yards against the Wolves.

MINNESOTA — The Gophers went through two hours of stiff scrimmaging before viewing movies of their 33 to 6 victory over Nebraska. Coach Bernie Bierman told his squad that Indiana "has a better team now than last year" and reminded his charges the 1945 score was 49 to 0 in favor of the Hoosiers.

PURDUE—As the Boilermakers began preparations for Illinois, Fullback George Papach and End Bob Heck joined the hospital list, as a result of injuries suffered in the Iowa game.

ILLINOIS—Changes in the Illini lineup for Purdue appeared probable as a result of fine showings made by reserves against Notre Dame. Mac Wenskunas, Bert Piggott, Russ Steger and Ike Owens, who were injured in the Irish tussle, were reported improving and will be ready to play Saturday.

WISCONSIN — Halfback Don Kindt was the only Badger who took part in Wisconsin's 28 to 7 triumph over California Saturday who missed yesterday's preparatory drill for the Northwestern game at Evanston. However, Freshman Jim Embach received a possible fractured bone in his ankle in scrimmage and may be out for the year.

NORTHWESTERN—After a 3-week absence with a knee injury Bernie Knauer, second string tackle from Manitowoc, Wis., joined the Wildcats in a defensive line play drill yesterday. Frank Aschenbrenner, No. 1 halfback, missed practice because of a charley-horse which is expected to keep him sidelined most of the week.

Temple Tops Mat Card at Sterling

Sterling, Ill., (Special) — Sgt. George Temple, brother of Movie Star Shirley Temple, the most colorful athlete in Hollywood, will face Benny Trudell, the Canadian lumberjack in the Sterling coliseum ring Thursday night.

He is 24 years of age and enlisted in the U. S. Marines at the outbreak of war. He spent three years in the South Pacific; was taught Judo and commando tricks and upon his discharge a year ago as a master sergeant of the 2nd Air Squadron he took up wrestling. There was objection from the family, including sister Shirley, until he made good. Then she became one of his best supporters. When not wrestling he coaches at a California military academy. He is now on a short tour of the middlewest and expects to go to New York for a few matches before returning to Hollywood.

Frankie Hart, the Canadian Dutchman takes on Johnny Silvy the eastern acrobat, in the semi-final with best two out of three falls.

The opening bout at 8:30 brings together Jack Carter of New Zealand and Dano McDonald, the burly Irishman.

HALAS DENIES LUCKMAN MAY TUTOR CHIROCKETS

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears of the National Football league, said today that his star quarterback, Sid Luckman, "will decline any and all offers to coach the Chicago Rockets."

Luckman was unavailable for comment last night after earlier conferring with John L. Keeshin, owner of the Rockets of the All-America conference.

An English memory expert sold his head for $5000 so that scientists migh study it after his death.

Cardinals Romp to 34-14 Triumph in Chicago Inaugural

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The revitalized Chicago Cardinals today began pointing for their important National Football league clash with the Chicago Bears Sunday—which is expected to attract 45,000 or more fans at Comiskey Park—after rolling over the Detroit Lions 34-14 in their Chicago debut last night.

The win against the Lions in their league opener was the first in two games for the Cards.

The former Western conference stars, Fullback Pat Harder of Wisconsin and Halfback John Strausbaugh of Ohio State, contributed most to the Cardinals' 237 yards by rushing while the Chicago team's fast charging line held the Lions to a minus 15 yards net on the ground.

Before a crowd of 26,842 the Cardinals pushed over four touchdowns in the first half—three in the second quarter—to lead 28-0 at halftime. Veteran Ward Cuff, who booted the four extra points, added field goals of 23 and 41 yards in the second half.

OHIO AND MALDEN IN SOFTBALL TITLE FINAL

Ohio and Malden will meet this week-end for the Bureau-Lee-Putnam conference softball title as the result of two victories each yesterday in the conference tournament at Ohio.

Ohio whipped LaMoille, 8-6, and Hennepin, 11-8, to enter the finals, while Malden walloped Putnam, 18-9, and Bureau, 15-12, to gain the title round.

Lee Center fell victim to Hennepin in the first round, 13-9. The other first round match found Bureau decisioning Cherry, 22-4.

The championship round was scheduled to be run off yesterday, but had to be postponed because of darkness.

Mother, 3-Year-Old Son Die in Car-Train Crash

West Chicago, Ill., Sept. 30 — (AP)—A mother and her three and one-half year old son were killed today when an automobile stalled on the Chicago, Aurora & Elgin railroad tracks, was hit by a train and set afire.

The victims were Mrs. Edna May Clarke, whose husband, Fred Jr., is employed in Chicago, and their son, Fred. Another son, John, 18 months was thrown from the car by the impact and was not injured seriously.

The train hurled the car against a frame station which caught fire and was demolished.

Tony-Rocky Rematch Announced By Jacobs

New York, Oct. 1—(AP)—Mike Jacobs, one gent who never will be accused of letting a hot thing cool off, has signed Middleweight Champion Tony Zale and "Golden Boy" Rocky Graziano to do it all over again in Madison Square Garden March 21.

Thus the 20th Century Sporting club promoter will have plenty of time to figure out a way to bulge the seams of the big Eighth avenue swat palace to accommodate the horde of customers who will be begging to get in on this prize.

Some 39,827 of the fistic faithful were on hand in the Yankee stadium last Friday for the first blood-letting and it's a safe bet that all of them, along with a couple of friends each, will try to jam their way into the Garden come March.

Since only 20,000 fans can squeeze their way into the indoor arena, Jacobs plans to make the customers pay plenty for the privilege of seeing this hot number.

At the moment, and it will take plenty to make him change his mind, the canny promoter plans to charge a $5 to $50 tariff on the 15-round title bout which could bring a gate of around $500,000 for a new all-time gross for an indoor show. The present record is about $200,000.

In the Friday fight, one of the greatest brawls ever staged in these parts, the gross amounted to $342,497. In that affair, the stolid game champion from Gary, Ind., came off the floor and from the brink of defeat to knock Graziano kicking in the sixth round for the first KO defeat in the tough New Yorker's career.

Meanwhile Zale, his right thumb in a cast as a result of a chipped bone suffered in the fray, shoved off last night for Indiana where the Gary citizens will honor him with a civic celebration.

Tony Zale

Zale, according to his co-managers Art Winch and Sammy Pian, plans to come back here after Jan. 1 to get in a few overweight, non-title tuneups. Graziano will see action before the big show. He may take on Marcel Cerdan, the French ex-sailor who holds the European 160-pound title, or one or two other battlers. He didn't like the six months lay-off preceding the first Zale encounter.

All prunes are plums, but very few plums are prunes. Only those plums that will dry without souring are called prunes.

IT'S HAPPENED 42 MILLION TIMES!

"RIVERSIDES . . . didn't come on my car: I CHOSE THEM!
"AND I SEE A LOT OF OTHER PEOPLE ARE SWITCHING TO RIVERSIDES, TOO!"
Yes, all over America, more and more motorists are buying Riversides! They find Riversides give them more for their money, more safety, longer life! Remember, over 42,000,000 Riversides have been deliberately chosen . . . in preference to tires that come on cars, in preference to all other makes of tires!
NOTE: Ask about Wards "MIRACLE" Inner Tubes. The tubes that make tires safer . . . longer wearing.
In sizes 6.50-16 and larger, Riversides are now made with RAYON cord! Smaller sizes continue to be of finest cotton cord!
"If we are temporarily out of your size, remember:— New Tires are arriving at Wards every week. (And selling fast!)"

HORSERADISH. We are now bottling horseradish and cater to the trade that puts quality ahead of price. Our horseradish roots are the highest grade, well matured. We use only the best vinegar. We could put up a cheaper grade out of low grade, small, immature roots retailing for about half the price of nigh grade, but that would be confusing to the consumer, therefore we put up only the highest grade. Call for it by name. Say, "Give me a bottle of Bowser's fresh horseradish, please." Most all leading food stores handle our product. Put up at
